CONVENTION ADOPTS ACTION PROGRAM

AGREEMENT SIGNED WITH CHEMICAL CO.

Nichols, Fla.—The first agreement between newly chartered OEIU Local 297 and one of the companies operating phosphate mines in this area has just been reached. The contract is with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company and was negotiated with the assistance of International Vice President F. R. Walling, Jr.

The agreement covers all office and clerical employees of the company working in and out of its Nichols operation, including the Homeland and No. 91 mines, for whom OEIU Local 130 is recognized as the exclusive bargaining agent.

A general wage increase of 12 cents per hour, plus adjustment of individual inequities running in some cases from 5 to 10 cents per hour additional, was won for the employees. It also provides for maintenance of union membership and a check-off of union dues upon written authorization of the employee.

WAGES BOOSTED

Lincoln, Ill.—Wage increases ranging from $1.15 to $3.75 per month were obtained for all clerical employees in a recent renewal agreement between OEIU Local 167 and the Central Illinois Power Company. OEIU-AFL Organizer Frank E. Morton assisted the local negotiating committee.

DELEGATES ACCLAIM PRESIDENT'S REPORT

St. Louis, Mo.—The regular 1949 convention of the OEIU held at the Statler Hotel and opened on the morning of March 21 with more delegates and local unions represented than at any previous convention.

The invitation was given by Reverend P. H. Johnson, and Leonard Amrhein, president of the host Local No. 13, delivered the welcoming address which was followed by short speeches of welcome by Frank A. Neum, for the mayor of St. Louis, A. F. of L. Organizing Director Harry O'Reilly, OEIU Canadian Representative Russell Harvey and by General Organizer James Miller. OEIU-AFL Organizer John Z. Lowery delivered the St. Louis office and John J. Rollings, executive secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis and vicinity.

Opening Ceremony

After the opening ceremonies temporary Chairman Amrhein turned the gavel over to President Hutchings and the convention got down to the business before it. The Executive Board reported as the Credentials Committee of the convention and the delegates were duly seated.

The following committees were appointed to consider the various resolutions, officers' reports and recommendations: Rules, Constitution, Organizing and Servicing, Legislation, Auditing, Official Publications and Publicity, Labor Reports, Election, Press, and Appeals.

Reports Well Received

President Hutchings presented a detailed report on the activities of the International Union for its last convention held at Chicago in March, 1947, and dealing also with necessary plans for the future growth of the organization. The report was enthusiastically received by the convention. (Printed copies of the same were mailed to all local unions for their ready reference.)

The convention heard reports of its Auditing Committee and reports from Secretary-Treasurer Hicks on the financial operations of the International Union, and a detailed report of the actions of the International Executive Board since the last convention. The Executive Board report included numerous specific recommendations.

Well-Planned Program Enjoyed By OEIU Convention Delegates

St. Louis, Mo.—Under the capable leadership of its Vice President Margaret Ritch, who served as chairman of its committee on convention arrangements, St. Louis Local No. 13 provided numerous events for the entertainment and enjoyment of the delegates to the recent International Union Convention. All delegates received a letter of greeting from the local committee, advising them briefly of the outstanding events planned for their enjoyment.

An informal reception was held at the Statler Hotel on Saturday afternoon, March 19, at which time the delegates as they arrived had an opportunity to register informally with the convention committee, the International Union officers and the delegates from other local unions.

Refreshments were served.

Buffet Supper

On Sunday evening, March 20, St. Louis Local 13 sponsored a buffet supper party at the Hotel De Soto, which was well attended and greatly enjoyed. Supper, refreshments and entertainment in an air of informality served as a welcome to all delegates.

An exceedingly well planned convention banquet was arranged by the St. Louis local and held in the ballroom of the Statler Hotel on Thursday evening. In addition to an excellent meal, an outstanding floor show, including music and floor show, was presented.

Other Unions Cooperate

Each delegate was supplied with the host local with an attractive folder containing a souvenir and materials of interest to them during their stay in St. Louis.

Well-Planned Program Enjoyed By OEIU Convention Delegates

The St. Louis local received exceedingly good support from the entire A. F. of L. movement in the city, which cooperated most effectively with the local in its entertainment of the convention. Arrangements were made by the host local to provide for sightseeing trips for delegates desiring the same, and to see that delegates were assisted in visiting the various points of interest in the city.

There is no question but that all delegates were truly appreciative of the splendid reception accorded by them by St. Louis Local 13 during their stay in the city.

Grocery Company Workers Sign Up

Detroit, Mich.—The office force of the Leo & Cady Grocery Company have signed up for membership in OEIU Local No. 42 and the local union has been certified by the NLRB as the exclusive bargaining agent for this group of approximately 20 employees.

Wright Speaks

On Tuesday, March 22, Assistant Secretary of Labor Ralph Wright addressed the convention and his remarks were exceedingly well received and appreciated by the entire delegation. L. M. Orshburn, Secretary-Treasurer of the Union Label Trades Department, A. F. of L., also addressed the convention.

During the course of the convention the delegates had the opportunity to see the just completed motion picture entitled “Battle of Wall Street” prepared and released by the Seafarers International Union and dealing with the Wall Street strike of OEU Local 205 last year. Through the courtesy of the SIU several prints of this film will be made available to the International Union for the use of local unions desiring to show the same. A second movie dealing with the DiGirigolo strike of the National Farm Labor Union was also shown.

Numerous officials of other National and International Unions brought to the attention of the respective organizations to the convention—some in person and others by letters and telegrams.

Laws Amended

All of the constitutional amendments recommended by the International Union Executive Board received favorable consideration by the Constitution Committee and by the convention after slight modification in several instances of the specific clauses recommended. The convention adopted 10 basic groups of amendments to the Constitution covering the following items: To provide for waiving of reinstatement fees; to exempt local union benefit assessments from assessment limitations of International Constitution; to amend financial reporting requirements of local union secretaries-treasurers; to permit local unions to use applications for membership approved by International secretary-treasurer; to base cancellations of conventions on voting strength of local unions; to publish THE OFFICE WORKER at discretion of International Union Executive Board; to provide for increased revenue; to amend requirements applicable to election of local union officers and board members; to provide for regular International Union conventions in the month of June every two years; to clarify strike procedure. The presidents and secretaries-treasurers of all local unions have been supplied with mimeographed copies of all constitutional amendments adopted by the convention and printed copies of the OEU Constitution as amended by convention action will shortly be available to all local unions.

Resolutions

A total of more than 50 resolutions were accepted for consideration by the convention, referred to the respective committees and acted upon by the convention. These resolutions, in addition to constitutional matters, embraced a wide range of subjects including matters of legislation, publicity and public relations, organizing and servicing, official publication, research and local union officers and board members. Convention proceedings are being prepared in printed form and a copy will be supplied to each local union shortly in accordance with established procedure. The May issue of THE OFFICE WORKER will contain detailed information on the actions taken on the various resolutions.

Nomination of officers was a special order of business on Thursday morning at which time the convention nominated without opposition, and subsequently unanimously reelected, President Paul R. Hughes, Secretary-Treasurer J. Howard Hicks, and Vice Presidents as follows: Region II—J. O. Bloodworth, Jr., A. R. Carson; Region III—L. G. Nygren, C. A. Stafford; Region IV—L. P. Amor, C. C. Newell, Frank F. Randall.

New Vice Presidents

Contests were had in Regions I and V. In Region I, Vice President R. M. Daughtery was returned to office and two new Vice Presidents were selected: Harold E. Beck of ND, Milwaukee, and Edward P. Springman of Local 14, Philadelphia. In Region V, which is the newly established Region embracing the entire Dominion of Canada, Lucien A. Brunelle of Local 101, Beauport, Quebec, was the successful candidate.

The convention adjourned Friday afternoon, March 25, after installing the International Officers for the ensuing term.
NEEDS OF WORKING WOMAN SURVEYED

Washington—A working woman living with her family in New York State in 1948 had to earn at least $40.13 a week—$2,087 a year—in order to support herself adequately, pay her income tax and put a little money aside for emergencies and old age, according to the findings of the twelfth annual survey of living costs conducted by the New York State Department of Labor.

Of the required $2,087 annual minimum, $1,595 covered the costs of goods and services and $492 went for income taxes, insurance and savings. Broken down to weekly expenditures, the needed $40.13 was apportioned as follows:

- Housing, food at home and other household expenses $12.04
- Lunches (5 days) 3.06
- Clothing 6.84
- Clothing upkeep .50
- Personal care 1.04
- Medical care 1.62
- Insurance 1.01
- Leisure activities 2.83
- Transportation and other essentials 2.77
- Savings 4.01
- Taxes 4.45

Almost 38 cents of every dollar in a working woman’s budget was spent for housing, food and other household expenses, 18 cents for clothing and its upkeep, 7 cents for leisure activities, 9 cents for personal and medical care, plus insurance; 11 cents for state and federal income taxes, and 10 cents for unforeseen contingencies.

The New York State survey covered 11 representative cities, towns and villages and entailed field visits to retail stores, service establishments, doctors, dentists, real estate brokers, banks, landlords and tenants. Due consideration was given to the size, location, marketing status and the number of working women in each community surveyed. Comparability of costs was assured by pricing the same items throughout the state.

Living costs ranged from a high of $2,109 in New York City to a low of $1,007 in Cuba (population 1,699). This was the first year the cost of living was found to be

Gradual Price Declines Needed, AFL Survey Says

Washington, D. C.—The American Federation of Labor Monthly Survey declared that “a gradual and orderly decline in high prices is greatly needed now to increase buying power of workers and other consumers and bring them back into the market.”

The danger of inflation is gradually disappearing, the survey said. “The need at present,” it said, “is rather to make up the serious lag in workers’ buying power so that business can reach a normal peacetime balance without sliding off into a recession.”

The present business situation was characterized as “precarious.” Unemployment could increase or inflationary policies might check the normal downward adjustment of prices,” the survey said. “Much depends on the wisdom of union leaders, business executives and the public.”

The medical care allowance, which became effective in 1947, was foreseen contingencies.

The cost of living was found to be higher in the metropolitan, due mainly to a sharp increase in New York City fares.

Generally, the cost of living was slightly lower in the smaller communities of the state, the survey demonstrated. In Norwich and Cortland, for example, costs were 3 per cent below the state average and in Cuba 9 per cent less. Previous surveys showed similar variations.

In every city included in the study costs were higher than in 1947. Increases ranged from 2.9 per cent in Cortland to 6.6 per cent in New York City. The average increase in cost of goods and services was 7.6 per cent.

The medical care allowance, which represents average annual need for a period of years, increased 5 per cent. Expenditures for leisure activities—amusements, sports and educational pursuits—increased 6.5 per cent.

The cost of transportation and other essentials rose 3.6 per cent. New York City showed the greatest climb—49.4 per cent—due mainly to higher transit fares which became effective July after a successful campaign for boosting the fares which was waged by the CIO’s Transport Workers Union.

STATES CAN BAR CERTAIN STRIKES

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Supreme Court upheld by a 6-to-4 vote a Wisconsin state law which prohibits any concerted effort by workers “to interfere with production” except by leaving the plant and going out on strike.

Under this law, the State Labor Relations Board had issued a ruling against Local 282 of the AFL United Automobile Workers Union, which had called a number of “special meetings” of members in the plant of the Briggs & Stratton Corp. during working hours in the winter of 1945-1946.

In a sharp dissent, Supreme Court Justice Douglas said: “If the states can outlaw this strike, I see no reason why they cannot adopt regulations which determine the manner in which strikes can be called in these intermediate industries.”

“The right to strike, which Congress has sanctioned, can in that way be undermined by state action. The federal policy thus becomes a formula of empty words.”

On the other hand, the court’s majority opinion declared that “this conduct is governable by the state or it is locally ungoverned.”

PROPAGANDA HIT BY INCOME CENSUS

Washington—Despite the flurry of sensational propaganda about the great prosperity enjoyed by the wage earners of this country, the average income of the United States family in 1947 was $3,000, the Census Bureau reports, adding that it was the highest figure up to that time.

Distributing the nation’s income among 37 million families, the Bureau specified that 4 million had under $1,000. Six million had $1,000 to $2,000. Eight million had $2,000-$3,000. Four million had $3,000-$4,000. Four million had $4,000-$5,000. Three million had $5,000-$6,000. Three million had $6,000-$10,000, and one million had $10,000 or more.

Only 4 million families, therefore, or slightly fewer than one out of every 9 families in the entire country, had the $6,000 in 1947 which President Truman has suggested as the starting point for the income tax increase he has requested of Congress. This proposed tax increase would actually fall on the few, perhaps, of course, since, according to the Bureau, in about one out of every 3 cases the family income in 1947 was derived from two or more paid workers.

In one-quarter of the families, women made 25 per cent or more of the family income.

These figures are very revealing. Also, they annihilate the spurious contention that the workers of this nation have enjoyed and are enjoying prosperous conditions.

In view of the noticeable developments in our economy, it stands to reason that accumulated savings cannot remain as a factor in stabilizing the economy: off the dikes which have been anticipated and now are now being experienced. These facts also disclose that there is ample justification for a new wage increase for the workers of this country.

In another decision the Supreme Court held that in a company-owned town the employer must make available its meeting hall to a union for a union meeting.
EXPOSED AS FRONT FOR BIG BUSINESS

Washington—Full page ads addressed "Attention: Mr. Green and Mr. Murray" have been appearing all over the country in the daily press. These ads which oppose any repeal of Taft-Hartley Act are signed by DeWitt Emery, president of the National Small Businessmen's Association, Inc. The "Fronts with High Technique," as they are called, are an echo of the class war that was waged during the depression by the fascistic labor-baiting union for Big Business. The Mine Workers Journal quoted from the "National Independent," a bonafide small business magazine, as follows:

This looks more like the roll call of the American Blue-Book of Industry. It is another example of the present NAM monopolist strategy. Because the November election is only a few weeks away, the front of Big Business and the NAM, the technique now is to subsidize false fronts with high sounding titles to do their talking. Actually the pro-Taft-Hartley propagandists are just the same old small but wealthy interests.

In cahoots with Big Business, certain reactionary Congressmen are pulling every technique in the book to filibuster and stall hearings on repeal. One good example is Ralph W. Gwinn, representative from Buffalo, N. Y., who is not only a member of the House Labor Committee but also one of the most active members of the anti-labor Committee for Constitutional Government. On United States Congress stationery, Mr. Gwinn wrote to the various state manufacturers associations at the end of January saying, "It is up to you. Every employer must see that saving the Taft-Hartley Act now is in his major responsibility during the next few weeks. Gwinn urged them to rally as many employers as possible to request an opportunity to appear as a witness against Taft-Hartley. After gratuitously inviting the manufacturers' associations to join the committee with hundreds of witnesses, Gwinn then writes to the manufacturers that the majority party refuses to hear the testimony of our citizens on this vital question of law and order, thus nullifying the local press and tell your story to them."

Anyone who still thinks that the Taft-Hartley law is a "candid" and "modest" effort by honest men should take note of the fact that Gerald Reilly, principal back-stage author of the Act, has now gone on the record as saying that the law was "a fraud, and an attempt to cover it with honest and in good faith." The front groups such as the NAM have had their day. But the real battle is about to begin!

Now is the time for all individual workers in the U. S. to express themselves on how they feel about the Thomas bill, which the Senate will consider, and the Leanski bill, up for debate in the House. Both bills have the complete backing of the American Federation of Labor.

To have your say, write your Congressman and tell them what you think. Your opinions are needed. So take a minute and write a post card or a letter.

LET CONGRESS KNOW HOW YOU FEEL ABOUT LABOR LEGISLATION!

ELECTION WON

Cincinnati, Ohio—OEIU Local 227 won a victory in its initial unionization effort in Greater Cincinnati. An election under direction of the National Labor Relations Board for employers of Co-operative Mills, Inc., resulted in a majority in favor of the union as their representative for collective bargaining.

Local 227 was organized a year ago and is headed by William T. Owen. Organization work here is being supervised by R. M. Daugherty, international vice president.

Hospital Service Workers Organize

Newark, N. J.—The office and clerical employees of the Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey are rapidly signing up in OEIU Local 32 and it is anticipated that the local union will soon have a substantial majority representation among this group of approximately 400 office workers. The organizing drive is being handled by local Business Representative Nicholas Buliano and OEIU Representative George F. Firth.

Agreement Signed At Modern Coach

Albany, Ga.—Agreement has been reached by recently chartered OEIU Local 234 and the Modern Coach Corp., covering the office employees of that firm. The agreement established wage rates giving credit for length of service with the company which reflect a wage increase of slightly over 20 percent, according to J. O. Bloodworth, Jr., OEIU vice president who assisted the local union in its negotiations.

Phony Union Now Headed by Hartley

Washington, D. C.—AFL President William Green exposed the National Tool Owners Union, of which former Representative Fred A. Hartley, Jr., of New Jersey, co-author of the Taft-Hartley Act, has become president, as a phony organization, to use the word "union" in its title by a New York court and denounced as "Fascistic" by an official agency of the American Federation of Labor.

The text of Mr. Green's public statement follows:

"Announcement that former Representative Fred A. Hartley, Jr., of New Jersey, co-author of the Taft-Hartley Act, has accepted the presidency of the National Tool Owners Union, should come as no surprise to the American people."

"Nearly 10 years ago the Board of Standards and Appeals of the New York State Department of Labor rejected an application from the National Tool Owners Union for a certificate of incorporation and in so doing stated: "The present organization with all the potentialities for undemocratic action and danger to our way of life has yet come before the membership of this board."

"The action of the State Board of Standards and Appeals was upheld on December 13, 1947, by the New York State Supreme Court which ruled that it would be 'contrary to public policy to permit an organization to use the word union' in its title because 'it was not a labor union.'"

"Mr. Hartley has announced that he intends to open offices in Washington and to register as a lobbyist for the National Tool Owners Union. We believe his experience and his record have well qualified him for this job."

Canadian Workers Call Hike in Pay Essential

Toronto, Can.—Canadian wage-earners are campaigning vigorously for a four-cent-an-hour hike in order to combat the severe reduction in the value of the worker's wage dollar which has taken place in recent years.

Soaring living costs are creating dissatisfaction and unrest, the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress declares. It is "urgently necessary," the Congress adds, to secure a substantial wage increase during 1949 in all industries and trades.

Canadian workers are not sharing equitably in the vast production improvements. In the past decade, the CTLC charges.

While labor in Canada, in seeking to agree to agree before government boards and plead for just treatment, a brief prepared by the CTLC points out that industry is "practically uncontrolled" and increases prices "arbitrarily."

SUPPORT RED CROSS

Washington—Once again the American Federation of Labor and its millions of members are giving their support to the annual campaign for funds conducted by the American Red Cross.
